Gofyn i Brif Weinidog Cymru To ask the First Minister

Janet Finch-Saunders (Aberconwy): Pa drafodaethau y mae'r Prif Weinidog wedi'u cael â Llywodraeth y DU ynghylch nodi canmlwyddiant y Rhyfel Byd Cyntaf? (WAQ66290)

Janet Finch-Saunders (Aberconwy): What discussions has the First Minister had with the UK Government ahead of marking the centenary of the First World War? (WAQ66290)

Derbyniwyd ateb i'w gyhoeddi ar 23 Ionwar 2014
Answer received for publication on 23 January 2014

The First Minister (Carwyn Jones): I appointed Professor Sir Deian Hopkin as my Expert Adviser on the First World War on 3 March 2012. Sir Deian has held regular discussions with the UK Government and acts as my representative on the UK Government's First World War Centenary Commemoration Advisory Group. I meet Sir Deian on a regular basis to discuss progress regarding the programme Cymru'n Cofio Wales Remembers 1914-1918. This also includes a discussion on UK and international issues.

My officials continue to engage in regular dialogue with the devolved administrations, along with the UK Government and they sit on a DCMS UK-wide Communications Group.

Derbyniwyd ateb i'w gyhoeddi ar 23 Ionwar 2014
Answer received for publication on 23 January 2014

Mark Drakeford: Nabiximols (Sativex) has not yet been assessed by NICE. It is included in the review of Clinical Guideline 8, Multiple sclerosis: management of multiple sclerosis in primary and secondary care. A decision is expected in 2014.

Until then, funding decisions are made locally by the relevant NHS authorities according to local priorities and budgets.

Gofyn i'r Gweinidog Llywodraeth Leol a Busnes y Llywodraeth To ask the Minister for Local Government and Government Business

Darren Millar (Gorllewin Clwyd): Pa ystyriaeth y mae Llywodraeth Cymru wedi'i rhoi i sefydlu un rhif ffôn a safle porth ar y we ar gyfer y rheini sy'n dymuno adrodd pryderon neu amheuan ynghylch masnachu mewn pobl/caethwasiaeth fodern? (WAQ66285)

Darren Millar (Clwyd West): What consideration has the Welsh Government given to the establishment of a single telephone contact number and web portal for those wishing to report concerns or suspicions regarding human trafficking/modern day slavery? (WAQ66285)

Derbyniwyd ateb i'w gyhoeddi ar 28 Ionwar 2014
Answer received for publication on 28 January 2014

Lesley Griffiths: We do not propose establishing a single telephone contact number as current routes are well established and work effectively. If there were to be a single telephone point, it would be for the UK Government to run and fund at what would be a significant cost.

It is important, however, the public know how to contact the right agency in the right circumstances. I am, therefore, launching our TV campaign in February which advises 999 should be called in an emergency; 101 to report a routine case to the police; Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111 if the caller wishes to remain anonymous; and Bawso, for further information on support for the survivors of slavery in Wales, on 0800 731 8147.

The Welsh Government's internet pages on Slavery www.wales.gov.uk/anti-slavery provide a single reference point of information for professionals, practitioners and the public.

Darren Millar (Gorllewin Clwyd): Pa ystyriaeth y mae Llywodraeth Cymru wedi'i rhoi i'r posibilrwydd o raglen Cymru o Blaid Affrica yn cefnogi camau gweithredu i fynd i'r afael â masnachu mewn pobl/caethwasiaeth fodern? (WAQ66286)

Darren Millar (Clwyd West): What consideration has the Welsh Government given to the potential of the Wales for Africa programme to support action to tackle human trafficking/modern day slavery? (WAQ66286)

Derbyniwyd ateb i'w gyhoeddi ar 23 Ionwar 2014
Answer received for publication on 23 January 2014

The Minister for Local Government and Government Business (Lesley Griffiths): The lead in dealing with countries of origin of people subjected to slavery lies with the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and Department for International Development within the UK Government. Our role is raising awareness and working with our partners to support survivors of slavery, and to identify and tackle the criminals who are profiting from slavery here in Wales.

Gofyn i'r Gweinidog Cyfoeth Naturiol a Bwyd To ask the Minister for Natural Resources and Food

Darren Millar (Gorllewin Clwyd): A wnaiff y Gweinidog roi'r wybodaeth ddiweddaraf ynghylch pa gamau y mae Llywodraeth Cymru'n eu cymryd i fynd i'r afael â sbwriel gwm cnoi yng Nghymru? (WAQ66287)

Darren Millar (Clwyd West): Will the Minister provide an update on the action being taken by the Welsh Government to tackle chewing gum litter in Wales? (WAQ66287)

Derbyniwyd ateb i'w gyhoeddi ar 23 Ionwar 2014
Answer received for publication on 23 January 2014

The Minister for Natural Resources and Food (Alun Davies): The Welsh Government continues to work with local authorities, third sector organisations and the chewing gum industry to oversee a package of interventions to tackle chewing gum littering in Wales.

These interventions include a schools radio advert competition and a 'Bin it!' campaign designed and implemented by The Wrigley Company Ltd. The Bin it! campaign visits schools to raise awareness of the issues and the impact of littering and encourages students to reflect on their own behaviour.

In addition, The Wrigley Company Ltd, Keep Wales Tidy, Cardiff Council and Gumdrop Ltd have joined together to tackle gum litter in Cardiff. A six month trial where 100 Gumdrop bins were installed across Cardiff city and its outer districts was launched on 6 August 2013. The trial is due to end in February 2014.

The Welsh Government Tidy Towns initiative is also funding a project to remove chewing gum litter in Swansea. £30,000 has been awarded to Swansea Council to fund 3 chewing gum removal machines, with a proviso that these machines are made available to other local authorities on loan. Furthermore, the Tidy Towns initiative has also provided funding for a Gumdrop bins pilot that is due to be implemented within Swansea city centre and surrounding areas.

The Welsh Government is continuing to work with the Chewing Gum Action Group, which brings together representatives from government, environmental charities and the gum industry to ensure that Welsh local authorities and Keep Wales Tidy benefit from awareness, education and research work.

Darren Millar (Gorllewin Clwyd): Beth oedd cyfanswm y cynnydd/gostyngiad mewn sbwriel gwm cnoi yng Nghymru yn ystod pob un o'r tair blynedd diwethaf? (WAQ66288)

Darren Millar (Clwyd West): What was the total increase/reduction in chewing gum litter in Wales in each of the past three years? (WAQ66288)

Derbyniwyd ateb i'w gyhoeddi ar 23 Ionwar 2014
Answer received for publication on 23 January 2014

Alun Davies: The Welsh Government does not currently hold information on the total increase or reduction in chewing gum litter in Wales.

Since 2006 the Welsh Government has provided funding for Keep Wales Tidy to conduct Local Environmental Audit and Management System (LEAMS) surveys in all 22 local authorities in Wales. These surveys measure the cleanliness of our streets and as part of the LEAMS 2013-14 survey Keep Wales Tidy are collecting data on loose chewing gum litter. This data will be presented as a separate category within the report.
